

The background image shows a modern, multi-story building with a facade of horizontal wooden slats and large glass windows. In the foreground, there is a calm pond reflecting the building and the sky. Several young trees with white blossoms are planted in the area. The sky is blue with scattered white clouds.

Carla Margulies, Physiological Chemistry
tba

Thomas Brocker, Immunology
tba

BMC Science Seasons

May 19, 13:00 – 14:00 h, Small Lecture Hall BMC